From the story by Blair Hall.
In this picture Emily Stevens plays two parts, Janet and Lilare alike in appearance, but their natures are vastly differ-deeds, and when caught uses Janet's name. The story is intensely dramatic and will hold the interest of the audience all guiding principles of German diplomacy. The government at Berlin is not troubled with scruples.

Brazil has decided to put an end to German intrigue by martial law.
The death penalty for spies will be enforced. That is the kind of law that if enforced a few times, the enemy may respect.

Admiral Von Diederichs, who clashed with Dewey at Manila bay in 1898, and set the United States at defiance, having just passed away will not be forgotten by the American people. He was the first to give them a tip that the German government proposed to "do" them when the proper juncture arrived, which is today.

Following the disowning of LaFollette by Wisconsin, Mayor Hoan of Milwaukee has been repudiated, by the council of defense. Everybody save the Socialists, believe that the present war cannot be stopped until there can be no chance of another one.

At the last meeting of the National Education Association a program was proposed to better rural schools and asking Federal aid to the extent of $140,000,000. The plan would be carried out in 10 years, one-tenth of the money being spent each year, the Government to co-operate with the States and counties.

Why should a foreigner who sought the protection of our government be allowed to remain here and talk against that government? There are laws, even in this free country, regarding language calculated to provoke a breach of peace.

HANDSOME LITHOGRAPHS.

A wide-spread campaign against fake oil promotions is being carried on over the United States. Several States are preparing stringent laws to check the evil, and many newspapers are doing good work in refusing advertising to those that are not based on actual operations or production. The public interest in the oil industry at present is responsible for the promoters taking advantage of the opportunity. Like all other business there are responsible, paying, oil companies, and others that have nothing but handsome lithographs behind their promises.

TO HOOVERIZE.

Restaurants and lunch counters in New York paid little attention to rules laid down by Hoover, with the result that fifty-seven eating places were recently closed by the Federal authorities and placards placed in their windows stating they were closed because they refused to obey rules and regulations of the food administration. There is beginning to creep over the country the feeling that Hoover's rules may mean something.

THAT LITTLE SHINING STAR.

(To the Lad on Furlough.) How good it feels to clasp your hand, Brave lad in khaki brown, And say, "Right welcome are you boy When you return to town."
And then to size you up and down,
To look you o'er and o'er,

And find you soldier to the bone, American to the core.

You went away and left your home, Kind friends and loved ones here, Perhaps some girl you left behind,
Who treasured you as dear, But well we knew that you had gone To answer "Glory's" call,
That you would give her service true And strike till shackles fall.

And so we made a flag of white With border glowing far,
And in its center placed for you
That little shining star.

S. A. HUGHES.

"THE DAY"

Being a poem addressed to Citizens who are familiar with "Der Tag."

A poem, bearing the same name as the famous German bit of verse, "Der Tag," has been written by Karl Mathie, secretary of the Chicago branch of the Friends of German Democracy. It is intended for those Americans in whose veins flows German blood, as representative of their "day" as loyal Americans. Mr.
Mathie, who has been speaking in various sections of the country for the promotion of loyalty among Americans of German extraction, has used this poem with great effect. The poem is as follows:

"Der Tag"

(The Day.)

When the boys come marching home, old man
What are you going to say When your soldier lad Cries out, "Say Dad, Did you keep the wolves away?"

When your son comes limping home, my friend,

What can be your reply
If he finds that you Have not been true
While he was willing to die?

O, ten times worse than a traitor's death

Will be your son's black shame If he shall find
That you were blind
And tarnished his honored name.

But should he find that you gave all Without a shadow of blame You can greet your boy
With tears of joy,
You kept the home altars aflame!

Plans for distributing the poem among Americans of German birth or ancestry to stimulate subscriptions to the Third Liberty Loan are under consideration.

THE MOST HOLY.

The Quincy Herald is printing a series of articles by Rev. W. A.
Lindeman, pastor of Immanuel Lutheran church at Golden, Ill., on "Why I Prefer America." The case which this native of Germany makes against the German spirit of militarism is thorough and complete. In the extracts which he presents from German periodicals he proves beyond doubt that war is the greatest German ideal, the one object for which the people of the empire prepare themselves from their very childhood. The boys of Germany have this spirit of the glory that lies in war instilled into them at home, at church and at school. To them war is made the greatest object in an honorable German career. In this connection the Golden pastor presents the following from a magazine entitled "Jung-Deutschland," a periodical which circulates among boys of the age of our Boy Scouts:

"War is the noblest and holiest expression of human activity. For us, too, the glad, great hour of battle and the longing for it. Let us riddle to the utmost the old women in breches who fear war and deplore it as cruel and revolting. No; war is beautiful. Its august sublimity elevates the human heart beyond the earthly and the common. In the cloud palace above sit the heroes, Frederick the Great and Blucher (famous general of the Prussian army of 1813) and all the men of action; the Great Emperor (William I who fought against Denmark and Austria, who conquered France in 1870, who took Hanover in 1866, dethroned its king and made his kingdom a province of Prussia), Moltke, Roon, Bismark are there as well, but not the old women who would take away our joy in war. When here on earth a battle is won by German arms and the faithful dead ascend to heaven, a Potsdam lance corporal will call the guard to the door and 'Old Fritz' (King Frederick of Prussia), springing from his golden throne, will give the command to present arms. 'Thus is the heaven of Young Germany.'"

War is the holiest expression of human activity! Germany's heroes are her war heroes! Probably the boys of Germany are taught today that among the heroes in the cloud palaces above some day will sit the present kaiser, the man who condoned the sinking of the Lusitania, the ravaging of Belgium, the shooting of Edith Cavell and the plan to array Mexico and Japan against the United States! And this is to them the "holiest expression of human activity!"

Surely today there should not be one person in the United States of America who does not realize what the triumph of this spirit will mean to the people of America. Is this spirit of Germany to become the spirit of the world? Is this Kultur which is to be America's should Germany win? What will happen to American boys if Germany breaks thru the western front, seizes England's navy and then turns her guns on America to get her indemnity here? It is time that every American aroused himself to the greatest menace that American ideals, American citizenship and American freedom have ever faced.

From a supposedly Christian German publication, the Rev. Mr. Linde-mann presents the following taken from the periodical dated January 25, 1913:

"We Germans and Christians are also taught by honor and duty that there can be no peace for the souls of the dead or the living until a conflict is settled by the victory and triumph of our arms. Pagan belief and Christian faith alike teach us that we should give our lives for the brothers, for our fatherland, for our kaiser and his empire, for the victory of our arms, in order that there may be peace for the living and rest for the dead. Therefore, war is the most sublime and most holy expression of human activity."

Here we have it again in a Christian publication, eighteen months before Germany declared war upon the world! "War is the most sublime and most holy expression of human activity."

That is the spirit which was inculcated in the hearts of Germans for more than a generation. That is the spirit which needed but a slight pretext to transform into grim action.
That is the spirit which gave the world the tragedies of Belgium, Serbia and the Lusitania.

SAVING DAYLIGHT.

If the daylight saving plan receives the signature of President Wilson it will become a law and the clocks in America will be officially turned forward one hour. This will be the law of the land and the worker who now begins his daily duties at 8 o'clock will begin at 7. The day's work will be concluded one hour earlier and thus it is hoped that there will not only be a considerable saving of fuel but that out door work will be encouraged.

Last year the United States department of agriculture carried on an extensive campaign urging the planting of gardens and the utilizing of city lots for garden purposes. So well was the work done that millions of dollars' worth of vegetables were added to the food supply of the United States. It is argued that the average city worker who leaves his place of business at 5 o'clock and reaches his home an hour or more later has little time for outdoor work before night comes.
Leaving his place of business at 4 o'clock will mean an hour earlier arrival at home and the consequent opportunity for outdoor work.

Railroad time tables will of necessity be adjusted to the new conditions and many other changes will take place. It was the recently announced plan to have sessions of the David Prince school begin at 7:30 o'clock. Some of the children are already hoping that the daylight saving plan will not mean the beginning of their school sessions at 6:30 a. m. Such an early hour would be a severe test of the patriotism of both pupils and teachers and it is likely that the board of education will find some way of shortening the sessions so that the spirit law can still be observed.

Rippling Rhymes
By WALT MASON

Vernon Castle.
I used to think, in olden days,
That Vernon Castle lived in vain;
I didn't like his fiddling ways;
His dancing stunts gave me a pain.
Press agents boosted him so long, and so extolled his skill and grace, I felt as one who suffers wrong, when I beheld his pictured face. "He ought to do some useful thing, I often said, in decent grave." "Let women dance the Highland Fling—a man should like a man behave. Let women in the ballroom bask, and fox-trot, bunnyhug and waltz; a man should find a useful task, and climb like a dose of salts." Ah, well, he saw the useful chore, and grabbed it like a house afire; he'll be forgotten nevermore, while there's a bard to twang a lyre. He quit the tinsel and the gilt without a murmur or a sigh, forsook the fame his legs had built, to fight with farmer boys—and die. I scorned him when he used to flirt thru endless films of mo'is ar' but "neath his seven-dollar shirt there beat a grand heroic heart. He doesn't care a tinker's whoop what I may think, what I may say; but, mourning him, upon my cecp I laid nine yards of crape today.

matter of increasing agricultural

GERMANS PERSISTENT IN AIR RAIDS ON CALAIS

Port Was Raided for Five Hours Continuously One Night—Officer Gives Account of Thrilling Experiences.

Somewhere in France, March—(Correspondence of the Associated Press)—"Mournful Mary" is the soldier's nickname for the municipal siren which warns the population of Calais that enemy aircraft are approaching. The persistent attention which the Germans pay to this port is testified by the fact that over a large area the town entirely lacks glass, while almost every house has its specially strengthened and sand-bagged dugout. At present a small army of workmen is digging industriously in several of the squares and small parks of the town, constructing public shelters which are absolutely essential if the town is to continue in existence at all.

The Germans can raid the town comfortably between dinner and supper and if they choose, can go back and fetch another load of bombs and try again in the evening. As for night bombing, the town is so easily found that not even a moon is necessary—any reasonably fine night will do.

On one night last week it was raided for five hours continuously, on the following night it received 100 bombs. An officer who spent twenty four hours there enroute to England, wrote to a friend:

Saw Aeroplanes Advancing.
"The hotel where I intended to stay lost its last window last night, so I put up at another hotel which still boasts a few panes of glass. I arrived in town a little before noon, and at noon precisely Mournful Mary began her day's performance. We naturally looked up toward the heavens, and sure enough, there were nine enemy airplanes advancing in formation as if on parade. They dropped their bombs around the town and were then driven away by British machines.

"Things were quiet until towards the end of the afternoon, when Mournful Mary suddenly interrupted our dinner. The man I was with took me to his house, which he shared with a Belgian colonel and his family. We groped out way down two flights of cellar stairs into a small and airless chamber, strongly sandbagged and protected with beams. We sat there in the dark for an hour, when suddenly the electric lights went on, indicating that the danger was over. As I went back to my hotel, distant firing was plainly audible.

"I had just got to my room when Mournful Mary again broke forth. I decided to stay where I was this time. Outside my window I could plainly hear the ominous and penetrating hum of aircraft propellers, and presently there came a 'crash-crash.' The windows rattled and the walls shook. Then there were six more similar explosions, but not so near. Then silence, and presently the lights went on again.

Ten Appalling Crashes.
"I began to undress and was just ready to jump into bed when there came ten appalling crashes, mingled with the smashing of glass. This time Mournful Mary had been outwitted, but she made up for lost time by a series of blasts immediately after the explosions were over. There was silence again; the lights went on; I got into bed. The crashes again; very loud humming; then lights on again. I decided there was little chance of getting a night's sleep in this town, so I got out a book and tried to read in bed.

"But I no more than got interested in my book than out went the lights and there was another visitation, an exact repetition of the previous one. This time Mournful Mary and the bombs coincided exactly. There were two more visits before daybreak, besides two false alarms by Mournful Mary."

It is in this town that a famous group of statuary stands as a record of the heroism of the city's burghers in the fourteenth century. Beside this group of statuary there now stands the wreck of a captured Gotha downed by anti-aircraft fire while bombing the city. After the war the citizens plan to erect a replica of it in marble, dedicated to those who have gone thru the ordeals of the past few months.

RUMANIAN ARMY DIS- ARMING RUSSIAN TROOPS

Roumanians Take Necessary Military Measures to Prevent Starvation of Civilian Population and Loyal Russian Regiments.

London, March 8.—According to Rumanian official telegrams at the disposal of the Associated Press, a great part of the Rumanian army has been engaged in disarming and fighting Russian troops. Whole Russian units left the front and proceeded toward the Russian border, attacking Rumanian towns and villages as they passed.

"Fighting is now in progress between Russian troops and Russian Bolshevik irregulars all over the Bessarabia as far as the bank of the Dniester," says a Jassy telegram. "The position of the Rumanians is more than awkward, but they are compelled to take all necessary military measures to prevent the starvation, not only of their own troops, but also of the civilian population and the loyal Russian regiments still on the Rumanian front."

Rumanians who had resided for a long time in Russia were treated in ruthless fashion by the local Bolshevik authorities, according to the Jassy telegrams. Wholesale arrests were reported of Rumanian officials, members of Parliament, and business men, especially at Odessa. When the despatches were sent nothing had been heard of the members of the Rumanian legation who were expelled from Petrograd at a few hours' notice on January 28. They were supposed to be somewhere in Finland.

During the Russian attack on Galaz the Rumanian troops, after twenty four hours hard fighting, disarmed the Ninth Russian Division and captured fifty guns. About February 1, the Sixth Russian Army corps attacked the center of the Rumanian front in Moldavia with heavy artillery, but the Rumanians surrounded the attackers, disarmed them, and sent them under convoy into Russia.

The new Republic of Bessarabia appealed to the Rumanian army command to send troops to suppress lawless bands of Bolshevik irregulars who were devastating parts of the country. In the interior of Bessarabia, whence the Rumanian army obtained its food supplies, the Red Guards seized food depots, stopped supply trains and generally tied up the whole situation until Rumanian troops were sent to straighten it out.

With the consent of the Bessarabian government, the Rumanians occupied the whole of the Kishinev-Umgheni-Jassy railroad line, together with various food-marketing centers in Bessarabia, including Nograd.

ILLINOIS COLLEGE NOTES
In order to make provision for a longer chapel service, the schedule of recitations has been slightly changed so that the class after chapel will begin at 10:20 and the last class in the morning will not conclude until 12:10.

The regular Devotional Meeting will be held at Academy Hall on Sunday evening. The Devotional Association will continue the study of the Principles of Christian Democracy. Professor Lacey will be the faculty leader.

President Rammelkamp went to Perry on Saturday to address the Pike County Teachers' Institute. Mrs. John Yehling, of Duquoin, Illinois, is visiting her daughter, Miss Clarabel Yehling, of the senior class.

A new college catalog has just come from the press. The most noticeable change in the catalog is in the spelling. For several years an extreme form of simplified spelling has been used in the college catalog, but this has now been abandoned. Professor Stella L. Cole was chairman of the catalog committee. The announcement of courses in Whipple shows that next year this department will offer only two years of preparatory work. This is in accordance with the policy adopted by the trustees a couple of years ago.

The girls of the College prepared the war candy for the County Food Exhibit at the David Prince building.

Four teams of baseball and track are being organized in connection with the policy of intramural athletics at the College. Great interest is being manifested by the students in this new plan of athletics.

The college faculty offered the use of the laboratories and the Whipple building to the high school authorities. The high school has decided to use the Chemical Laboratory Tuesday and Wednesday mornings.

Mrs. Edward Capps, wife of Professor Edward Capps, '87, of Princeton, is visiting relatives and friends in the city.

The College has decided to abandon this year the annual interscholastic track and field meet. This action is in line with the policy adopted by the High School Athletic Association of Illinois.

A PATRIOTIC SERMON.
This evening at Grace church Rev. F. B. Madden will speak on "The Agony of Our Sister, France." This stirring message of the heroism, suffering and devotion of the French nation should stimulate American patriotism and courage in this darkest hour of the world crisis.

THIS SUIT is one of the liveliest of the new sport styles. There's a seam at the waist line, a military back and slanting pockets.

What's new for spring?

Any number of men and young men have asked us that question about the spring clothes.

There never has been so much interest before and never so many good styles to be interested in. Because so many men want authentic information, we're publishing the fashion notes.

There's the "erect, shoulders back and chest out" influence of this war that is evident in all the new models. The waist lines are more marked; the buttons spaced closer together; military back and pockets are the thing.

THIS is another sport style and an especially good one. The pockets have double rows of stitching and buttons and button holes.

Louisville, Ky., March — Thomas M. Chivington, business manager of the Louisville club of the American Association, has sent out notices ordering members of the team to report here on March 30 for practice. All players having been instructed not to report unless they have signed contracts. Fifteen men have been sent contracts, but it is quite likely that four new men will be assigned before the opening game.

It has been decided not to send of the pitchers or catchers away for preliminary work. O. H. Wathen, owner of the club, feels that the men tically completed, but he would not change his name for the present.

Iowa City, Ia., March — A number of last year's eleven were included among the first twenty-five men who responded to the call for spring football practice at the University of Iowa.

Some of the 1917 varsity men who appeared were Capt. Reed, Hunzelman, Greenwood, Verge,

Block and Lohman, while all the stars of the freshmen team—Meadows, Kaufman, Kelly, Charlton, Rich and Lindgren—were also on hand.

Stater and Scott, two of last year's ineligibles, were also out and probably will perform for the Hawkeyes next fall.

Ames, Ia., March—Edward (Dutch)

Columbus, O., March — Soldiers in training at Camp Sherman, the cantonment at Chillicothe, O., will see the Columbus and Toledo teams of the American Association in action before the start of the season.

Exhibition games will be played there on April 6, 7, 27 and 28. These are Saturday and Sunday dates.

Cleveland, O., March — James C.

Dunn, president of the Cleveland

American League club, evidently is finding a big league club an expensive luxury these days. Players valued at $29,000 have been taken into the service of Uncle Sam.

Louis Guisto cost Dunn $10,000; for Elmer Smith he paid $4,000 to Washington last year, only to lose him a few months later. Altho Ed Klepper came to Cleveland in the trade for Joe Jackson, it is not thought $5,000 would have bought him. In fact, Dunn could not get as good a pitcher for that sum.

Joe Harris cost Dunn only $1,500 but he would have brought $5,000 or more if sold. Catcher Herman DeBerry cost $2,500. The Navy got him. Jess Petty represents an outlay of $1,000; Clark Dickerson would have cost the same amount had he not been called to the colors final payments were made on him; as it was Dunn paid only $100 down.

And the war is not over.

Des Moines, Ia., March — When the club owners of the Western League held their annual meeting here, at which a 1918 schedule was adopted, it was indicated that there would be no "split" season this year. Near the middle of last season, several of the teams were so low in the standing that it was found necessary to split the season in order to revive interest in the tail-end towns.

The schedule of 140 games for this year calls for the opening games on May 1 and the final contests Sept.

15. Following are special dates:

Opening day—St. Joseph at Des Moines; Omaha at Sioux City; Hutchinson at Wichita; Joplin at Topeka.

Memorial Day—Joplin at Omaha;

Hutchinson at Des Moines; Topeka

Fourth of July—Des Moines at at Omaha.

Labor Day—Des Moines at Hutchinson; St. Joseph at Wichita; Omaha

Des Moines, Ia., March — Thomas

Fairweather, owner of the Des Moines club of the Western League, has mailed contracts to ten members of last year's team, and it is expected they will be ready to report about

April 1. Those who received contracts were Manager Jack Coffey, Shanley, Hartford, Hunter, Murphy, Moeller, Breem, Spahr, Drensen and Ewoldt.

Ewoldt, star third baseman last year, will not be with the team as he is in the National Army at Camp

Dodge, but Fairweather will keep him on the payroll at $50 a month,

"because he is a good ball player, and because he did so much to help us win the pennant last year," as Fairweather explains it.

Manager Coffey is expected in Des Moines soon but he will devote some time to helping Capt. John L. Griffith, athletic director at Camp Dodge in getting ball clubs started at the cantonment. Fairweather has arranged for three exhibition games in April with the Minneapolis team of the American Association.

The subject for the sermon next Sunday night at the Northminster church will be the "Signs of the Times as to Peace After the War."

Will there ever be an abiding peace on the earth till Jesus comes again, will be considered by the speaker.

In these latter times, we read of the Peace Palace, and of peace conferences and peace leagues galore.

We have the School League, the Church League, the Woman's Peace

Society, the American Peace Society and Arbitration League, the International Peace Forum, the coming

World League to Enforce Peace.

Poets have sung of universal peace;

platform orators have eloquently told of a time in this world, when war would be no more; clergymen have assured their gay and fashionable congregations that the long-looked for temporal millennium reign of permanent peace, with a world conversion, was just at hand.

By what process of reasoning can one logically conclude that there can ever be a lasting peace in this revolted world? The swift on-coming Armageddon will sound the death knell of earth's struggling nations. Any plan for permanent peace which leaves out the Prince of Peace, will utterly fail.

Bitter animosities and intense hatred have already sown such seed in this world war, that sober men of the world are sorely distressed as they look into the future and think of the inevitable reaping soon to follow. What power is there in man that can possibly cause to sink into forgetfulness the present intense feelings and threats? Such expressions as, "Remember the Athenians"; "Remember the Alamo";

"Remember the Maine". These show that there is no permanent peace on the earth.

Centuries before Jesus told the disciples of "war and rumors of wars," with "famine" and "perplexity," the prophet Joel wrote of the military preparedness that would characterize the last days of this world's history. Joel 3:9-16. The present waking up of nations, weak and strong, with a turning of plow shares into swords, and farm machinery into guns, makes the daily press—but commentary on Bible prophecy.

The present world war, in which,

back of all else, the destiny of Turkey and the scramble for the Constantinople wishbone is at stake, is sure to lead directly to the world's Armageddon, as that night follows

the day.

The lad detested the slow, monotonous work, and invented the spinning mule so that he might have more time for play.

FOOD ADMINISTRATION

NOTES

The Challenge

The most potent enemy of a country does not always come with thundering guns, poisonous gases and lines of marching men.

There is a silent enemy. No gun on earth can kill it; no submarine on the sea can destroy it; no death-dealing contrivance in all the world can stop its murderous course.

The enemy is Starvation. This is the most dreaded foe our associates in this war are facing today. We, in America, can and must check the relentless advance of Starvation in the Allied countries.

There is no need of building ships, there is no use of making munitions, it is folly to send our youth to be sacrificed before the guns of Germany, if we are not going to feed these boys we are sending "over there" and their brave companions in this struggle.

Europe's call for food is a challenge from which we cannot afford to turn away. If we value our own lives and those of other individuals we must throw all the energies of willing hearts, ingenious minds, and strong bodies to the great task of saving the enormous amount of wheat, beef, pork, butter, and sugar that it will take to keep the wolf from Europe's door.

We are not asked to go hungry ourselves, or even to make any large sacrifice, but merely to change our eating habits a little. Instead of wheat we must use corn, barley, rye, and oatmeal. In place of meat, we must use poultry, fish, eggs, vegetables, and cheese. We must use butter substitutes in cooking; we must use sugar with care and substitute wherever possible honey and syrups.

The spirits of those who have already died of starvation in France, Belgium, Poland and Serbia call us to this small self-denial. The thought of those who still struggle bravely on after nearly four years of war should make us glad to send them help.

It is only the slacker who would say: "This it not my business. I will eat what I please."

Inside Information About Some Foods

1. Beans and meat both furnish body building material. Yet some housewives serve baked beans as a vegetable with meat and serve just as much meat as ever.

2. Corn syrup is a perfectly wholesome food. It contains glucose, and glucose is a wholesome food. It can well be used instead of so much cane or beet sugar.

3. Oatmeal is "richer" than wheat flour. It contains about 7 per cent fat, while white flour has from 1 to 3 per cent.

4. Graham crackers are made of wheat flour, but oatmeal crackers have a very similar taste and they save the wheat.

5. Rye approaches wheat in bread making qualities more nearly than does any other grain.

6. Buckwheat is not wheat, but an entirely different grain. Its composition in general terms is much like that of wheat.

7. Nuts can be used in place of meat. They contain much fat and body building material, and often much starchy material too.

Eat Fruit and Vegetables. Fruits and vegetables are invaluable in the diet. There is a large supply on hand. The Food Administration urges you to use them freely.

Milk and Vegetable Soups. 2 1/2 tablespoons flour. 2 tablespoons butter substitute or other fat. 1 quart milk (skim milk may be used).

2 cups thoroughly cooked vegetables finely mashed or put through sieve. Spinach, peas, beans, potatoes, celery or asparagus make good soup.

Salt. Stir flour into melted fat and mix with the cold milk. Add the cooked vegetable and stir over the fire until thickened. If soup is too thick, add a little water or milk.

Escalloped Cabbage. Cut one-half boiled cabbage in pieces; put in oiled baking dish. Sprinkle with salt and pepper, and add one cup of white sauce. Lift cabbage with fork, that it may be well mixed with sauce, cover with oiled crumbs and bake until crumbs are brown.

Stewed Bananas. 4 bananas. 3

AMERICAN SPIRIT ON FRENCH FRONT

Yankee Push Shown by Sign-boards Bearing Legends of Various Nature.

"ABODE OF LOVE" ON HUN HUT

"Keep Off the Grass," Is American Engineer's Warning to Avoid Unexpected German Shell—France's Tribute to Fallen Allies.

Paris.—Among all the legends that appear on signboards at and near the front three plainly show the American spirit newly at work, writes George T. Bye.

The first of these I came across was at a railroad siding that formerly had been part of the depot yards of a hustling little town, C—, now thoroughly obliterated. American engineers were operating and maintaining this division of the military railway, and at the siding a lean-to lunchroom has been propped up—the only structure to mark the former site of C—. This lunchroom, supplied by British commissariat, had a capacity of four customers, two standing and two seated on boxes. The agony of desolation of the prostrate town was cheerfully answered by a bold sign nailed to the side of the lunchroom:

BOOST FOR C—! WATCH IT GROW!

Not so far from this evidence of pulsating Yankee push we passed a German internment camp, a collection of black huts surrounded by several barbed wire fences, the center one probably charged with electricity. This is the second stage of internment for Hun prisoners, the first being in wire cages at the trenches. More Americans were close by.

On the front of one of these huts a hasty arm had chalked in white letters:

ABODE OF LOVE

"Abode of Love" must have been the work of a Chicagoan. When I lived in Chicago several years ago certain celebrated affiliates were spending "sweet seasons" in a little cottage on southern Lake Michigan, which they called "Abode of Love."

Along still another division of the military railway in American hands (I spent two days visiting our engineers at the front) we found a Missouri humorist making a sign for a little fenced-off square already marked "Danger." Within was a huge unexpected German shell that had descended on too great a slant and had not buried itself. Such shells and hundreds of just-waiting-to-be-alight moved bombs are found on the battlefields near the front, where the labor battalions have not yet removed or exploded them, and most of them are fenced in, as I have described, and signed "Danger" or "Do Not Touch."

What our American engineer lettered on his cardboard for the big shell's little park was:

KEEP OFF THE GRASS.

Will our boys still consider it a pleasant pastime to devise wayside signs after they have lettered a few thousand of another sort. For example: "To the Memory of —, One of the Best Defenders of His Country and a Regular Man" or "To Unknown. He Lost Life and Identification Tag at the Same Time, Yet His Comrades Know Him as Hero."

These epitaphs are British.
Our troop trains in France pass signboards familiar to every American, among them the insistent reminder of "37 Varieties" and the three malted milk cows.

The biggest war sign is at the Butte de Warlencourt, on the Bapaume-Albert road. It has the dimensions of an American bill board and reads: "To Be Kept Intact by the French Government. Do not Disturb." The butte, a rocky cone hillock, is surmounted by five crosses erected to the memory of British troops who lost their lives by the thousands in storming the butte in October, November and December, 1916. The big signboard is a moving testimonial of the appreciation of the French for their loyal ally's sacrifices.

APPROACHING MOTHERHOOD

Every helpful influence that may be rendered the expectant mother should be promptly given her. All excitement, fear or dread should be avoided. The mother cannot be said of the wonderful measure known to thousands of mothers as "Mother's Friend". It is one of the greatest of all helpful influences. There is no nervousness and the tendency to morning sickness or nausea is avoided. It makes the muscles elastic which nature is expanding and soothes the inflammation of breast glands. The pain at the crisis is infinitely less when "Mother's Friend" is used for the muscles expand easier and with less strain when baby is born.

"Mother's Friend" is entirely safe and may be had of your druggist. Write the Bradfield Regulator Co., Dept. A, 200 Lamar Building, Atlanta, Ga., for their interesting book, "Motherhood and the Baby". They will send it to you without charge, and you will find it very helpful. Years of use by thousands of women prove beyond all doubt that "Mother's Friend" is the greatest aid to nature. It certainly should be used by every expectant mother for she should do everything in her power to help nature in her work.

MANY UNFIT TO FIGHT

Percentage of army rejections for physical reasons is high.

The percentage of men rejected by the national army for physical reasons ranges from 30 to 70 per cent, and is higher than that of any other country.

Before an insurance company will take a risk on your life the examining physician will test the urine and report whether you are a good risk. When your kidneys get sluggish and clog, you suffer from backache, sick-headache, dizzy spells, or the twinges and pains of lumbago, rheumatism and gout. The urine is often cloudy, full of sediment; channels often get sore and sleep is disturbed two or three times a night. This is the time you should consult some physician of wide experience—such as the specialists at Dr. Pierce's Inland Hospital and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y. Send 10 cents for sample package of the new discovery, Anuric (double strength). Write your symptoms and send a sample of urine for test. Experience proves that "Anuric" is a most potent agent in dissolving uric acid, as hot water melts sugar; besides being absolutely harmless it is endowed with other properties, for it preserves the kidneys in a healthy condition by thoroughly cleansing them—being many times more active than lithia.

Ask the druggist for "Anuric" put up by Dr. Pierce, in sixty-cent packages.

CHICAGO, ILL.—"Just a few lines in regard to Doctor Pierce's Anuric Tablets which I took for kidney trouble. I am glad to recommend them to everybody. I know that they are good or I would not recommend them. After taking a few bottles I saw that the swelling was going down so I continued their use. I have quit taking them now and am cured—getting along fine and dandy."—REECE JONES, 6325 South Seeley Avenue.

Strive To Have Healthy Skin

Next time you are in a gathering of women note the different conditions apparent in complexion. You will see some filled with blackheads, some dry and rough, some smooth and gray, some smeared with rouge, some streaked with heavy metallic powders and once in a while you will see one that is a demonstration of intelligence from every point of view. The color is rosy, the skin is clear and smooth, the pores are small and open, the powder does not show on the firm vigorous skin. Every woman can have a good complexion if she will only use a little discretion. If you would acquire real beauty, the beauty of perfect health, you must replenish your worn-out nerves with lecithin. Nature's own nerve restorer, and put into your blood the invigorating iron which Nature intended it to have for health. In most of the modern foods these and other vitalizing elements have been largely eliminated. Yet to be healthy and beautiful the system must have them. They are found in Bio-feren, not only in proper proportion to restore weakened vitality but in such form as the system can best assimilate them.

A treatment of lecithin and iron peptonate as combined in Bio-feren increases the appetite, aids nutrition and invigorates the patient.

And Bio-feren in its pellet form is easy and palatable to take—no liquid

ROUMANIAN OIL FIELDS WORKED BY GERMANS

London, March—The Roumanian oil fields are being worked hard by the Germans and Austrians in order to increase the production which is much needed by the Central Powers says the Engineering. A considerable proportion of the normal peace output has been reached from some of the old concerns which are being worked under the old management. The wells of the Consolidated Oil Fields company and Roumania-American Companies are being worked under Austrian or German management. New districts are being tried, the first being the oil fields belonging to the Roumanian state.

The German military authorities have taken the unexploited parts of the fields in hand and have formed a syndicate with German capital. Two German companies are already supplying engineers and material. The raw oil produced is delivered to the military authorities and by them distributed to different refining concerns of the country.

In order to facilitate the delivery of petroleum to the Danube and to relieve the railways from transport in tank wagons, the new pipe line from Ploesti to Constanza Harbor is being diverted to touch at Giurgiu.

MANY CANDIDATES FOR CHAIR IN FRENCH ACADEMY

Paris, March — The announcement by the French Academy that Marshal Joffre would be elected to succeed the late Jules Claretie brought out a number of candidacies for the other vacant seats. Among them was Jules Cambon, former ambassador to the United States, who will be one of the competitors for the chair of the late Francis de Charnes, along with Charles Benoist, deputy and member of the Institute who is devoting his life to the study of the causes for the depopulation of France. Pierre Mille and Hugues Le Roux are also candidates for this seat.

There are now forty aspirants for places among the "forty immortals" the list including Charles Le Goffis, the author from Brittany; Adolphe Brissot, are dramatic critic; Joseph Reinach, whose military criticisms over the signature of "Polybe" have attracted much attention during the war, and Louis Barthou, former premier of France.

RAW U.S. RECRUITS
MADE GUN EXPERTS

Americans in France Know Every Part of Weapons Except Secret of "75."

TRAINING IS MOST THOROUGH

No Stint of Ammunition for Practice Work—Target Shooting in the Morning, Machine-Shop Instruction in the Afternoon, Is the Program.

An American Artillery Camp in France—Firing stops at eleven o'clock every morning. By that time every gun captain has finished his allotment of shells for the day. It does happen sometimes that a gun breaks down, and in that case its shells are distributed among its neighbors. There is no record of a battery commander who has been kept on a bound boy allowance of ammunition by his own government failing to take advantage of the prodigal son privileges which war has given him. He is right, of course. The more shells he shoots the sooner his battery will be fit for action, writes Herbert Corey in the Chicago News.

The better part of an hour is used in getting into camp for luncheon. The meal itself is over at one o'clock. Then business starts again. The afternoon program never includes firing, but deals with the fundamentals of learning how to fire. The men take the guns apart and put them together again. They know just what part each bit of metal plays, so that when it ceases to function the gunners will know what is wrong. The officers are at work at other things. Some are taking a course of map making, some are at wireless telegraphy and others are scattered about the other schools.

"Let us have a look at the three-inch school," said the colonel.

A machine shop had been turned over to the use of the specialists in the French "soixante-quinze" field piece. The French officer who acted as instructor here is one of the finest artillerymen of the French army.

Secret of Efficiency.

One part only of the seventy-five is not taken down—the recoil mechanism, in which lies the secret of the wonderful efficiency of the piece. Before the war it was a secret in reality.

Nowadays, of course, the secret is a secret no longer. The Germans have captured hundreds of seventy-fives, and know it inside and out. But the recoil mechanism is so delicately adjusted that no attempt is ever made to repair it in the field. If it breaks down, it is taken off the gun and sent to the nearest factory for readjustment. In the next shop, where the 6-inch guns are being elucidated to the new-born soldiers, everything is shown.

It should be thoroughly understood at home that the artillery, along with every other branch of the army here, is making wonderful progress toward fitness, but it must also be understood that these men are not to be hurried into the trenches for permanent occupancy. They are physically fit as prize fighters, but they are still short of the full knowledge required of them.

In normal times, the artillery has been the corps d'élite of the American army, but today it is suffering from the same lack of preparation which characterizes every other branch of the service—a lack of preparation which must not be charged against the army heads. In the artillery units here—

Each regiment is short thirty officers of its quota.

Not more than 5 per cent of the men have served more than one enlistment.

Not more than 20 per cent of the men have served as much as one year. The vast majority of the men were absolutely new to the army. A comparative few have been in service as much as six months.

Superior as a Body.

On the credit side of the account it may be stated that the men are of an extraordinarily fine type. As a body they are superior in the raw to any European organization I have seen, and I have seen them all except the Roumanians.

But the artillery organizations are suffering from the handicap of a lack of previous experience in bulk. The artillery must be a highly skilled specialist. The greater part of the officers at this camp are either new to the army or new to the service with the guns. The work of development is further checked by the shortage of officers previously referred to—a shortage which is added to by the new demands made by modern war.

More officers must be detached as observers than had previously been the case. The training of these officers necessarily removes them from immediate contact with their units, where they are sadly needed. They are being taught aerial observation in balloon and airplane at a time when under the previous scheme of organization they should be serving with their men. This is not sounding a note of pessimism. The progress made is magnificent. It is obvious that a more rapid progress would be made if the regimental quota of officers were filled.

SECRETARY OF THE NAVY
SPEAKS IN NEW YORK

Daniels Chief Speaker at Annual Banquet of Friendly Sons of St. Patrick.

New York, March 16.—Josephus Daniels, secretary of the navy, the chief speaker at the annual banquet of the Friendly Sons of St. Patrick here tonight, held up the career of John Barry, an Irishman and the first commissioned captain of the American navy as an illustrious example of loyalty to an adopted country. He declared that there was no place in this country for any person with divided allegiance. Paid conspirators who have received money or other form of profit for spreading propaganda against the United States were unfavorably compared by Mr. Daniels with Judas Iscariot, who, he said, was decent enough to end his own life.

The intrigues and conspiracies that have been uncovered in recent months the secretary said that men bearing the honorable name of American were its worst foes but their number has not been large and exposure has taught these two good lessons:

"First that it is impossible to hide treason and disloyalty and second that the day has arrived when men who enjoy the privileges of America must renounce all other allegiance. There is no place in this country today for any man who is not ready to give all he has and all he hopes to have to bring victory to American arms."

Senator James Hamilton Lewis, speaking of international problems to follow in the wake of the war said that the United States has had but two international policies—the Monroe Doctrine and the Asiatic exclusion laws.

"Had we escaped being drawn into the war Prussia is making on civilization," he said, "we would have had to fight sooner or later to defend the Monroe Doctrine in Europe or the Asiatic exclusion in Asia."

"It is to America's great benefit that she has an era of such general adjustment as is soon to be made, that she can throw into the general balance these contested policies as a part of the general whole and in such hour compose the contention and allay their disquieting condition."

MEN OF NAVIES
LIKE BIG FAMILY

American and British Sailors Best of Friends, Says Writer.

JACKIE LIKED IN ENGLAND

Fight Among Themselves and All That Sort of Thing, Says Charles Dawbarn, but No Happier Crowds Could Be Imagined.

London.—Writing in the Daily Chronicle on "The United States Fleet in Being" and discussing America's invaluable services, Charles Dawbarn says:

"It is not the American way to fear publicity. Uncle Sam likes to act in the broad eye of day and to have his deeds emblazoned for his own encouragement. But the English are secretive—perhaps this is one of the revelations of the war. In any case, a veil of silence has been dropped over American naval action in the service of the allies—in conformity with British traditions. Being in Rome, the good Americans do as Rome does. In this particular Rome holds its tongue and looks wise. Not the least of American services to England is her readiness to become dumb and anonymous, because that is the immemorial way with the British navy."

"And yet it would not do to suppose that our cousins have not contributed very sensibly to the reduction of the peril which awaits us on the water round the coast. Sir Eric Geddes paid handsome tribute to them in his maiden speech as first lord in the commons. The United States 'Jackie' is a fine fellow, and one of his finest attributes is his speedy adaptation to the new conditions of service in European waters. He has become our own Jack Tar's firm friend."

The Family Feeling.

"Gratifying examples of co-operation between the two services are furnished every day. Officers and crews of the two fleets like each other so well that they 'get mad' at each other, as the Americans say—just as if they were members of the same family."

"In courts of inquiry both services participate when both are involved. Perhaps the senior officer will be British and the two juniors American, or the senior will be American and the others British. The unity is such that British and American destroyers swing at the same buoy and follow each other in their sea practices. At sea they exchange signals; on shore they use the same clubs and huts. At one base a converted cinema hall is now a rendezvous for the bluejackets of the two nations. There they fraternize in the most cordial manner. Between scenery painted by sailors and in front of an orchestra of destroyer musicians English and American artists sing their songs and deliver their monologues to their brothers of the sea."

"The incessant work of the destroyers and patrol boats in conveying troops or merchant ships, or in chasing the submarine, has not blunted the edge of the seafarers' keenness. If you speak to him about his present 'metier,' and compare it with his peacetime labors, he will declare that the latter were heavier to bear. There was the eternal maneuver for the action which never came, and, after it, officers had to analyze the theoretical results. Navigating and engineering staffs lived in an atmosphere of paper problems. Nowadays they are swept away. There is no time for them. And the spice of danger has given zest to the daily round. To understand that, one must understand the psychology of the sailor."

Danger Is Real.

"His danger is real enough. Hydroplanes and other appliances have not proved a sufficient solution. The only real solution is man and ship power; the policeman on the spot to catch the thief."

"A hit, a palpable hit, perhaps, and yet the result is uncertain. This is the common experience of submarine chasing. You are never certain of your bag. But whatever German apologists may assert, the number of 'tin fish' disposed of by our ally steadily grows greater, and the system of convoys—a number of ships 'in a bunch,' surrounded by destroyers—has at least this advantage, that it brings the enemy to the defense force and thus obviates a search for him. And in 'taking care' of the traffic, British and neutral, in the sea lanes leading to these isles, the United States navy is performing a duty essential to our existence and reaffirming the old maxim—consecrated once before at sea—that blood is thicker than water."

DANCING CURES HER NERVES

Woman Testifies in Alimony Suit That Physicians Pronounce Her Improved.

Atlanta, Ga.—"I have undergone several operations and become very nervous, so I was induced to take dancing lessons, in the hope that my condition would be improved," said Mrs. Hattie Green, a dancer, on the stand in her own behalf in an alimony suit. "Physicians have informed me that my nerves have been greatly improved through my dancing. Counsel for the husband was closely questioning Mrs. Green as to her dancing."

COMMISSION FORM OF CITY GOVERNMENT.

The law creating the Commission form of government in addition to having that attractive—but as practiced in Delighted Jacksonville, delusive—provision as to street railway franchises only being granted by the people has also another feature that sounds good. It is provided by the statute that the council shall each month print in pamphlet form, a detailed itemized statement of all receipts and disbursements, which shall be furnished to certain parties therein named "and to persons who shall apply therefor at the office of the City Clerk."

Did you ever see one of those statements issued by the City of Jacksonville? I have. I examined it—but when I was thru I knew little or nothing more than I did before and I would never have revealed my lack of comprehension only I happened to meet a very intelligent man—a Professor in the State University at Champaign, Illinois, and he said that he had examined the alleged statements of the City of Jacksonville, and that he was unable to gain any information as to the financial operations of the City or of the financial condition of the city from the statements issued by the City, so I feel justified in saying this legal provision as complied with is not an open book—"that he who runs may read," but is camouflage. We were once more promised bread and handed a stone.

I would be glad to know today how much the annual receipts of the City of Jacksonville are and what it was spent for. I would like to know the amount of anticipation warrants now outstanding and what the floating and unpaid indebtedness of the City of Jacksonville at this time is? I would like to know why it is that the credit of the city is so impaired that it is necessary for those who work for the city to be compelled to give up twenty one per cent of their wages to get the cash. I say in morals it is not right that the product of their toil should go to those who do not toil. The burden of that discount either falls on the laborer or the tax payer, and it is morally wrong. Sound morality should not be confined to the home or the church, some of it ought to be brought down town and used in public as also in private affairs.

I know Jacksonville is a moral town. It is so recorded on moral questions at the polls, and by many that seems the only test. If a man can perform his full duty by casting a vote a certain way, then how easy it is to discharge our duty to the public. If we can make a town moral by a vote it is so easy. Many go to the polls and vote and go home satisfied with duty performed and quit. Duty is not an election day matter, it is an every day and every hour matter. Some get a Bible under their arms of a Sunday and go to church and pray. They leave their Sunday clothes and prayer book at home the other six days and go down town and prey on their fellow-man. They only feel their duty on one day.

I say that the mere form is not sufficient either in city reports or other conduct. What has gone with the money? Whose hose get the stop? Where was Moses and the city when the lights went out? In the dark of course. Why don't we have light? Why don't we get light from the printed itemized statement? Why should the beautiful gem that gleams on the fair bosom of Illinois be discredited? You who are the keepers of that credit, tell the People of Jacksonville why under the commission form of government this fair city is now ill served and its credit gone.

FOOD CONSERVATION
EXHIBIT COMES TO CLOSE

Saturday's Session Was One of Unusual Interest—Miss Swingle Gave Demonstrations of Bread Making From Flour Made from Soy Beans and Potatoes—Mrs. Dunlap Talked of Garden Work.

The final day of the food conservation exhibit was a great success in every way though it deserved a far larger attendance, yet a goodly number availed themselves of the benefits offered.

In the morning Miss Swingle of the Woman's College demonstrated various ways of cooking. She had a mill right on hand, ground soy beans and potatoes into flour and baked biscuits good and appetizing.

At noon tables were set and the ladies of Trinity church served a Hoover lunch, a meal without meats yet supplied with what goes to make a healthy body.

The disastrous fire destroyed the exhibit which had been laboriously prepared by the pupils of the high school and it was a sore disappointment but had to be endured. However the exhibit of vegetables and war conservation foods was very good indeed and helpful in a practical way.

In the afternoon many from different parts of the county were present and reported progress in their neighborhoods and on the whole the words given were encouraging.

Following this Mrs. H. M. Dunlap of Saxoy, a lady so well known in this community by her visits to the farmers' institutes in times past, gave an excellent talk on organization for garden work. She gave many excellent and helpful suggestions regarding the all important work of raising all the food possible from the soil this summer.

Music was furnished during the evening by talent from the Illinois Woman's College.

The first number was a chorus of the College Glee Club in a new patriotic song "Sammy" by Arthur Olaf Anderson.

"The Star Spangled Banner" by glee club.

Miss Clara Moore played "Liebes Freud," Kriesler.

Miss Margaret Scrimger and Miss Pauline Kennedy sang "O Italia Beloved," by Bonizetti.

Mrs. Dunlap again favored the audience with a fine address on general matters pertaining to the great work in hand. There were four words which she strongly urged on the people; the health habit, the work habit, the play habit and the study habit. Special emphasis was laid on each habit which may be seemingly innocent in itself but be harmful in the end.

She told how all could be useful if they could go at the work with suitable intelligence. She explained winter vegetables and how to grow them and how to care for them if we have them with us. She said it was absurd for men to plan the houses when they would take the ladies into their confidence at the start they would have undoubtedly had enough to justify the effort.

Girls should know how to keep house intelligently. Not one of the eminent colleges for girls has a domestic science department and when the girls go there they grow away from parents and never get back.

The outlying homes of this place might have chickens and pigs well enough. A book entitled Natural Education by Winnifred Sackville should be in the hands of every woman in the county. The work habit should be acquired at an early age and play should be such as to inculcate a love for work.

Mrs. A. L. Adams, chairman of the county council of defense; Mrs. Doan, chairman of county conservation food work; Mrs. Pitner, chairman of the production of food and Miss Barrett, librarian, have done grandly in making the enterprise a success.

Mr. Pierce with representatives of the council and the citizens committee visited several possible sites and spent some time in examination of the present water works plant. Thru the information he secured and that already on file it will be possible for him to make some preliminary estimates and indicate to the joint committee what in his opinion will be the necessary expenditure for providing adequate storage supply of water.

JOHN DEERE DISC
HARROW

The John Deere Model "B" is not only superior in general construction to other discs, but there is also one most important difference in principle that places this machine strictly in a class by itself—its flexibility.

It is a high grade Spring Pressure, Flexible Harrow. A third lever with powerful spring is provided by means of which the driver can easily lower or raise the gangs at the center so as either to cut out dead furrows or to cultivate over ridges or back furrow without burying the harrow in the center.

Each gang of the Model "B" works independently so that only the part passing over an obstruction is raised out of the ground. With a rigid harrow, the entire machine is lifted out and considerable ground left unworked. In other words, each gang of the Model "B" is controlled by a convenient lever so that the operator can readily regulate it to secure the desired penetration the full width of the harrow.

TO CHANGE FOOD HABITS OF BRITISH PEOPLE

French and American Methods of Cooking to Prevail in New National Kitchens—Object is Elimination of Waste.

London, March — (Correspondence of the Associated Press)—"We are out to change the food habits of the British people,—an appalling task, but one in which I think we shall succeed," said Sir C. F. Spencer, the newly appointed Director of National Kitchens. In an interview with the Associated Press this week.

French and American methods of cooking, which are regarded as far less wasteful of food than the English cookery, are to prevail in the new National Kitchens, twelve American and twelve French chefs are coming to England to supervise the daily menus and have general charge of the machinery of food preparation.

"The great thing is the elimination of waste," said the Director, "and for this purpose we are going into the organization of communal cooking on a gigantic scale. Public baths and park buildings will be turned into kitchens, and town halls into dining halls; street cars and omnibuses will carry the finished product to thousands of small distributing stations. Varied meals will be provided for everybody at the lowest possible price, and there will even be special meals at invalid kitchens for those who need them."

Need Good Will of People.
"We are determined that the words 'too late' shall not be merited so far as this department of the food problem is concerned. We shall need all the good will of all the people to assist us, and we shall perhaps make some mistakes. But the country must have economy in food, fuel, soap, kitchen necessities and labor, and there must be adequate supplies of food at low price."

"We shall, for one thing, place within the reach of the working classes wholesome food instead of makeshift meals. We shall eliminate the waste of fuel, the multiplicity of operations, and the enormous waste, you must agree that if this could be concentrated in one huge kitchen, and a few stoves and some electric apparatus could do the whole, it would be a saving."

Worked by Local Authorities.
"The national kitchens will be worked by the local authorities and an order giving a formal start to the scheme will be issued at once. The government will provide 25 per cent of the initial outlay free, and 25 per cent more in the form of a loan; the remaining 50 per cent will be raised by the local authorities."

The basic scheme which we are suggesting is that of a central station with distributing depots. Food will be passed out to consumers only on tickets, so that their portions may be properly checked up against their regular food cards. Supplies will thus be strictly rationed.

"The kitchens will be open to all classes. It is suggested that there may be some difficulty in getting women of the upper classes to patronize them but I think the reverse is more likely. One of the first central depots to be organized should be the House of Commons dining room."

"It is reckoned that 75 per cent of the meals sold would be for consumption off the premises, while the remainder would be eaten at the counters and tables."

At the regular monthly conference of the salesmen of the Jenkinson-Bode Co. held Saturday afternoon, it was announced that C. J. Buhner will become manager of the company's business succeeding F. H. Bode June 1. As previously announced, Mr. Bode and his family expect to leave about that time for California, where Mr. Bode will establish a business in conjunction with his present associates.

CORN PRICES IN SHARP DECLINE

Market Has Fallen off from 40 to 50 Cents Per Bushel in Past Few Days.

Corn prices have slumped very rapidly in the past two or three days and prices took another market tumble Saturday of from 5 to 15c a bushel. The fact is that elevators are at least temporarily out of the market, as they are afraid to buy and most of them cannot sell on the present market. A good many of the elevators are full of corn bought at higher prices than the present market affords. On the basis of quotations in Chicago and St. Louis yesterday elevators if buying good quality of corn could not pay more than $1.00 or $1.10 a bushel, whereas a few days previously they had been paying $1.40, and in some cases $1.50.

One reason for the slump is said to be the fact that great quantities of soft corn have been moved forward in recent days and that it is reaching the market more rapidly than buyers can take care of it. The weather and roads have also been exceptionally fine for delivering corn and the fact that many farmers have found their corn heating in the cribs led to rapid delivery. All these circumstances have combined to glut the market and the heavy decline has been the result. From 50 to 65c a bushel represents about the amount taken off the highest price cash corn during the past few days.

Some farmers and elevator men are inclined to think the price will recover to some extent speedily but some others interested in grain do not believe that cash prices will again reach the figures which have obtained. The government limit on future prices of corn was fixed weeks ago at $1.25 but notwithstanding this fact the cash price has continued to be far above that figure. Those persons who do not look for recent high levels to again be reached have the feeling that there will be some restoration of market prices but that the cash levels will be very much nearer the government future price.

MR. HERMAN HAS RETURNED

Mr. Herman returned yesterday from the east after a strenuous visit in the great metropolis whither he went to buy goods for the spring and summer trade. He reports business brisk as a general rule, and many new and handsome creations in both his lines. He says transportation has troubled them to some extent and they have had many goods sent by parcel post so as to insure quick delivery. An improvement in this respect is hoped for soon. The great bulk of his purchases has arrived the more will follow.

CLAIM NEW CONTRACT IS "PROFITEER PROOF"

Construction Division of War Department Created to Take Place of Cantonment Division Which Did Preliminary Work of Building National Army Camps.

Washington, March 16.—With the creation of a construction division in the war department today to handle the largest single building program in history, aggregating $1,084,000,000—a board of eminent experts appointed by Acting Secretary Crowell reported that the present form of construction contract is "profiteer proof."

The new construction division will replace the cantonment division, which did the preliminary work of building national army camps, and will carry an immense building program involving hundreds of thousands of workmen and extensive structures for the army throughout the country. It will be under the immediate direction of the chief of staff.

Headed by Prof. A. N. Talbot, of the University of Illinois, president of the American Society of Civil Engineers, the board includes John Lawrence Mauran of St. Louis, president of the American Institute of Architects; Charles T. Maine of Boston, President of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers; John R. Alpine, representing the American Federation of Labor; R. Goodwin Rhett, of Charleston, S. C., the President of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States; E. W. Rice of Schenectady, N. Y., President of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers; Frederick L. Crawford of Brooklyn, N. Y., President of the General Contractors Association of New York and Oscar A. Reum of Chicago, representing the Building Construction Employers' Association.

Because of the hundreds of millions of dollars involved the board was asked to examine the present form of contract and, if necessary, propose a new one. The board reported:

"The form of contract permits starting actual work, weeks and even months before the details are completely worked out and delineated, and permits the government to push the job at any speed it may elect, changing at will its scope and plan, but paying only what the work actually costs plus a fee which is so reasonable as to be above the reach of fair-minded criticism."

This form of contract is known as the cost plus sliding scale of fixed fee in which fixed fees to contractors range from 7 per cent on contracts of $100,000 or less down to as low as one and three quarters per cent on the very largest sums.

The fee according to this form is fixed when the contract is let and if the cost exceeds the estimate because of higher labor and material prices the contractor receives no additional compensation whatever. Labor and material prices always will be subject to approval by the government. Under other forms of the "cost plus" contract so widely attacked in congress it was possible for a contractor by running up labor charges and paying extravagant prices for material to increase his fee accordingly.

The board rejected the suggestion that the government embark on the day labor plan, because it was convinced it would entail inefficiency and delay and because the board believes the existing forces and organizations of contractors should be maintained as a public policy.

Furthermore it was thought a central organization was undesirable because the work to be done was so widely scattered over the country.

A survey of the work to be done by the new construction division indicates the magnitude of the government's preparations to push the war to a successful conclusion. There are already underway in the United States 85 big jobs aggregating $205,000,000.

There are in prospect now 120 more representing $278,000,000. In addition there are forty jobs for housing troops representing $290,000,000 while hospital construction alone represents $10,000,000.

The work in prospect includes storage terminals at Boston, Philadelphia, Charleston, S. C., and twenty eight other points; signal corps cantonments and aviation fields at 40 different points; powder loading plants and ordnance depots on the Atlantic seaboard; housing facilities for ship workers at sixteen different points, Tuberculosis hospitals at Denver, Colo., and Azalea, N. C.; a remount station at Charleston, S. C.; mechanical repair shops in Texas; three great office buildings in Washington in addition to those under way; a hospital at Fort Riley, Kans.; an isolation hospital at Tenafly, N. J.; extension of the Springfield, Mass., arsenal; gas making plants and gas shell filling plants at many points.

Contracts have not been let for the majority of the great projects and the definite locations of all of them have not been so fully determined as to warrant announcement at this time.

Today it was learned that the bandits drove north from Ogden where they were overtaken by the sheriff and exploded a charge of nitroglycerine in the Penfield bank safe. The explosion aroused the villagers and the bandits were driven away without obtaining any money. The wounded youths are in a hospital at Champaign and probably will recover.

WILL GIVE PLAY FOR BENEFIT OF RED CROSS

Jacksonville Rebekah Lodge No. 13
Will Give Play and Concert Friday Evening for Red Cross—Play Under Direction of Miss Lillian McCullough—Concert Under Direction of Miss Nelle Self.

Jacksonville Rebekah Lodge No. 13 will present Love and Tea at Odd Fellows Temple Friday night for the benefit of the Red Cross. The play is a comedy drama in two acts laid in the colonial period and is said to be an amusing offering. The admission will be 10 and 25 cents.

Following the play an old time concert will be given under the direction of Miss Nelle Self. Miss Self has the principals working hard and a splendid rendition of old time songs is promised.

Story of the Play.
Miss Boltwood, a despotic spinster is persuaded to join a band of ladies who have sworn to give up tea and all taxed articles till the war is over.
The tea habit is too strong for Miss Boltwood and she drinks it secretly.
Her niece, Betty, discovers this and uses the information to compel her aunt to consent to her (Betty's) engagement to the young minuteman, William Dickinson.

Miss Boltwood has an esteemed friend in Judge Ingram, the Tory, whom she has known for years.
When he joins the Patriot cause and she hears the (false) report that he has been arrested as a spy, she champions him and becomes an ardent Patriot also—all this just as he has decided that their friendship is ideal.
Mandy, a fine colored comedy character, furnishes much amusement.
The play closes with the old time minuet which gives a happy ending to the serious entanglements.

INCOME RULINGS AGAIN EXPLAINED

Man Who Does Not File Report Should Be Very Certain About Income and Deductions—Law Strict About Failure to File Report.

A statement made yesterday with reference to the visit of J. E. Gard, special representative of the revenue department, was not quite clear.
However, as previously mentioned, Mr. Gard will remain at his office at the court house for a number of days and will be glad to consult with any persons who have questions with reference to filing the schedules.

The previous statement made indicated that any single man who has an income of $1,000 should file a report whether or not he has deductions which he is certain brings the net below the taxable amount. This is not required of such a person and for example any single man who has an income of $1,200 and allowable deductions which amount to $250, he is not subject to the tax. The same applies to a married man or a head of a family who has an income of $2,400 and allowable deductions of $450. In other words the law applies to single men who have an income of one thousand dollars or more net and to married men or heads of families who have income of $2,000 or more net.

As stated, it is not necessary for those who do not have such incomes to file report but any person who is in doubt as to deductions or exemptions should make immediate inquiry. The single person who has an income in excess of $1,000 who excessively figures his deductions and so does not make a report is subject to investigation and possible fine later on. If the department has reason to think that a man should have filed a tax return and did not do so, an investigator will be sent to check up the man's affairs. If it is found that this person should have paid an income tax the amount then to be collected will be double what it would have been originally and furthermore the person failing to make the income tax return is subject to fine and imprisonment.
The one safe way in these income tax matters is to figure then according to law and if there is any doubt to ask questions which will result in bringing the needed and desired information.

KEEP AGRICULTURAL WORKERS AT HOME

This is New Order Given Exemption Boards—Men at Work on Farms Not Now to be Inducted into Service.

The Morgan county local board yesterday received an order from the adjutant general's office instructing them to refrain from inducting into the service any men who are actively engaged in agricultural work.
This policy is in direct line with the view held by the local board. It has all along been their contention that men engaged in agriculture should not be taken from the county, where agriculture is the most important industry, and furthermore because the government is earnestly seeking to have greater production from the farm.

The order as forwarded from the adjutant general's office does not permanently exempt men in agricultural service but has the effect of at least temporarily giving them deferred classification. The formal order reads as follows:
To all Local Boards:
You are directed not to induct into service any man who is actively, completely and assiduously engaged in planting or cultivation of crops.
In making up lists for induction hereafter the order number of all men engaged in these occupations shall be passed over and their induction deferred till further notice.

AMERICA'S SWEETHEART MARY PICKFORD

In Kate Douglass Wiggin's lovely story, "Rebecca of Sunnybrook Farm."

"As Rebecca, the little girl with a propensity for poetry, Mary Pickford is right in her element. She gives a quaintness to the character which adds to its humor, and when she vacillates in the kitchen over two signs, one reading, 'Thou shalt not steal,' and the other, 'God helps those who help themselves,' finally deciding that the latter is best scripture, and therewith devouring the pie, the theatre fairly shook with laughter. At this kind of work Little Mary is supreme."

"Rebecca of Sunnybrook Farm" is of the intimate type and is bound to be the star's most popular play.

MORGAN WOMEN HELD CONFERENCE SATURDAY

Unit of Council of National Defense Working Along Many Lines—Financial Plans Considered—Report on Registration.

A business meeting of the Morgan county unit of the Illinois woman's committee, council of national defense, was held Saturday afternoon at 1 o'clock at the David Prince building in connection with the patriotic food show. Mrs. A. L. Adams, the chairman, presided, and announced that Mrs. T. H. Buckthorpe had taken the chairmanship of the finance committee and that Mrs. Paul Alexander is now the chairman of the committee on women and children in industry.

The plan of organizing all the school districts of the county was discussed at some length. Under this plan the chairman of each precinct is to have as many vice chairmen as there are school districts in her precinct, one woman being chosen from each school district in the precinct. Franklin precinct is already thus organized and plans are well under way for carrying on various phases of war work. The women there are advocating the raising of money thru the "Red Cross Hen," the plan being to set a hen and donate to the Red Cross all the money realized from the chickens hatched.

Work Wide in Scope.
Reports made at the Saturday session by the chairman of the various committees indicated the wide scope of the work which has been and is being done. The food conservation committee, under the direction of Mrs. J. Parker Doan, has been especially active. It was under the direction of this committee that the patriotic food show was arranged, and the fact that Morgan county ranks among the first in the state in the matter of food conservation is evidence that the work of the committee has been systematically carried on.

Mrs. W. P. Duncan as registrar reported that at the present time six of the city precincts were completely registered, which means that every woman over sixteen years of age in the precincts has registered. Of the county precincts nine are completely registered. They are Concord, Meredosie, Alexander, Prentice, Markham, Sinclair, Lynnvile, Northville and Chapin.

Mrs. Dunlap Spoke Informally Because several of the out of town women present at the conference Saturday were compelled to take early afternoon trains, Mrs. M. M. Dunlap who was scheduled to make an address at 3 o'clock spoke informally at the business session. Mrs. Dunlap laid special emphasis upon the plan of organizing boys and girls in the country into boys' and girls' clubs and taking the school hours as the center. She also favored the appointment of county home advisers as a means of increasing the influence for good of the rural community.

It was announced that the next meeting will be held April 26-27. At that time the principal speaker will be Mrs. Ira Couch Wood of Chicago, chairman of the child welfare committee of the council of national defense, and the address will be along the line of child welfare work.
